Higher and further education institutions are under pressure to transform. Disruptive technologies are changing everything. Students are more connected and empowered, with more institutions offering them more options. They expect more. Better quality information. Better administration. A digital experience. And yet, budgets are tight.

So how can education institutions excel for less? By ditching inefficient, standalone systems. By switching to an integrated, built-for-purpose Student Management Solution (SMS) that provides enhanced customer experience, functionality and the agility needed to deliver a contemporary, cost-effective experience for your students and staff.

Introducing DXC Campus

Designed specifically for higher and further education institutions, DXC Campus is part of our Cloud-based DXC Industry Solutions suite, preconfigured to meet the unique requirements of specific industries.

It's a solution that's been built-for-purpose by our education SMS specialists, combining Oracle®'s market-leading application technologies and processes with our industry-specific intellectual property (IP), to deliver all the functionality, capabilities and governance controls your organisation needs.

Process maps, integrations, data migrations, mobile applications, reports, legislation, master data – it's all factored into DXC Campus to enable smart collaboration, decision making and management across the student lifecycle.
